August 9, 2013 (Pocono Raceway, PA)—Garrett Smithley continues to make a name for himself as he came from a 35th place start to finish 14th in his second career ARCA race. Smithley, described by many as a patient and mature driver reported that he was “very happy with [his] driving at Pocono...finishing 14th felt like a win!”

The win did not come easy as practice and qualifying were cancelled due to heavy rains. Smithley found trouble in the shortened practice session with his front wheel, but the team worked to improve the car, and a 14th place win is proof their work paid off.

Herobox is proud to sponsor this up and coming race car driver. Smithley has rallied around the Herobox mission and seems determined to introduce Racecar fans to its cause—supporting deployed service members. Ryan Housley, Executive Director and Founder of Herobox is excited to partner with the Garrett Smithley team. Housley is impressed with “the passion Garrett expresses for our deployed troops and his willingness to help accomplish the Herobox mission.”
