HeroBox Named Atlanta Braves “All-Star” in PEOPLE Magazine’s “All-Stars Among Us” campaign

Major League Baseball, PEOPLE and the Atlanta Braves announced Ryan Housley as the Braves "All-Star" of the "All-Stars Among Us" campaign, which recognizes individuals who are serving their communities in extraordinary ways. Ryan is the winner out of three people nominated for the Braves baseball team for his community service through HeroBox, a non-profit organization dedicated to supporting the troops by sending custom care packages to deployed troops overseas. Housley will be honored during the pre-game ceremony at the 2009 MLB All-Star Game in St. Louis on July 14 on FOX, at which President Barack Obama will throw out the ceremonial first pitch.

People Magazine teams up with the 2009 MLB All-Star Summer events dedicated to charitable initiatives and recognition of the importance of community service for our nation’s growth. Nearly three quarters of a million votes were cast at PeopleAllStars.com by fans across the nation to select the 30 "All-Stars Among Us" winners (one per MLB Club) out of the pool of 90 finalists who are serving as leaders within their communities. One winning "All-Star Among Us" will be featured in PEOPLE the week of the All-Star Game.

The Peachtree City based non-profit organization HeroBox began with Ryan Housley sending care packages to his brother, US Army Specialist Evan Housley. Ryan put up a simple web page (HeroBox 1.0) to field special requests from Evan and other soldiers in his brother's unit. As word spread, the demand outweighed the supply and the little web page soon became a non-profit organization: HeroBox.org.

HeroBox currently houses over 2600 soldiers in their database, all awaiting a custom care package specific to their needs. The organization is powered by volunteers across the nation to supply care packages to those soldiers. "Our mission is to provide troops with whatever they need to keep morale high while they serve and protect our country abroad," says Founder Ryan Housley. "Right now, we have 200 citizen sponsors that have adopted soldiers, and we need more to cover all 2600 heroes."

In addition, Major League Baseball is supporting President Obama's call for community service through "United We Serve," a program which encourages Americans to engage in sustained and meaningful community service. President Obama is encouraging all Americans to visit www.serve.gov to find service opportunities in their area.

The 80th Major League Baseball All-Star Game will be televised nationally by FOX Sports, with pre-game ceremonies beginning at 8:00 p.m. ET, in Canada by Rogers Sportsnet and Sportsnet HD and televised in more than 200 countries and territories by Major League Baseball International.
