Peachtree City, GA May 2014—This week HeroBox packed and shipped five “Welcome Home Kits” for the Valor House in Missoula, Montana. The Valor House is a one-year transitional housing program that provides apartment living to veterans who were formerly homeless. Through this program, veterans have access to several services designed to assist them with their transition out of homelessness. Upon completion of the program, the veteran is eligible to receive HUD Vash housing within the community.

These five “Welcome Home Kits” HeroBox is sending to the Valor House will be given to veterans who have completed the program and are receiving a housing voucher. These kits include all of the household essentials for the kitchen, bedroom, and bathroom, and are intended to supply our heroes with the necessities to build a home.
