Peachtree City, GA April 2017— HeroBox has partnered with Hangry Kits in an effort to make sponsoring a deployed service member on our site even easier. Established in 2016, the Hangry Kits mission, led by Reuben Schroeder, has been to end the global “hangry” crisis. They have developed a special HeroBox edition kit that can be purchased on their website. Once you are registered and logged into your profile on the HeroBox website, you will now see a “Resources” tab containing a link directing you to purchase the box.

The box includes our most commonly requested items including deodorant, beef jerky, and coffee. You can purchase this box for a price of $39.99 with free shipping on the Hangry Kits website here: <https://hangrykits.com/product/hero-kit/>

“I am very excited about this partnership. I think the option to buy a pre-made box will be more enticing to our sponsors and hopefully boost our sponsorship numbers. Our primary goal is providing support for our deployed service members.” – Amanda Siefert, Program Manager
