Atlanta, GA September 2018—On September 11, 2018 the team at Honor Courage Commitment, Inc gathered together to pack 150 HeroBox care packages. The event took place in Dallas, Texas, where they collected donations from around their community to support their initiative in giving back to deployed service members.

Honor Courage Commitment also known as the HCC is a nonprofit organization that helps veterans become entrepreneurs and start their own business. They also provide professional and career training for veterans offering interview and resume training and support.

Their team at HCC partnered with HeroBox to connect with deployed units and to coordinate labeling and shipment of parcels. Fellows Program Manager, Lizann Destin said that this HeroDay reminded her of the quote "Alone we can do so little, together we can do so much". She also stated, "as a veteran myself, I know what it feels like to receive gifts while serving deployed...our Heroday went perfectly and my only wish is that we had more time to do more boxes".

HeroBox is grateful and proud to have worked with such an amazing, diligent, group of people, and look forward to working with them in the future.

Herobox is a nonprofit organization with a mission to provide the physical and moral support our heroes need while they are away from home. We are able to achieve this mission through programs that are designed to engage America's greatest resource—the people.
