November 9, 2013 (Atlanta, GA)—On December 4, the employees of the Atlanta Home Depot Headquarters will come together to pack 2500 Heroboxes for soldiers who will spend their Christmas deployed. The Home Depot Foundation and Herobox have partnered together to gather the names and addresses of deployed Units and purchase items those units desire most. The items will be set up in the Atlanta Home Depot Headquarters, where employees will have the opportunity to put together care packages during their lunch hour. Natalie Hynson, Herobox Program Director is “amazed at the enthusiasm of the employees and their eagerness to go through the line to pack as many boxes as they can before returning to work.”

This year’s Heroday marks the third of its kind for the THD Atlanta Headquarters. Herobox is thankful for the generosity of the Home Depot Foundation and its mission to serve the military and veterans across the country.

Herobox is a nonprofit organization with a mission to provide the physical and moral support our heroes need while they are away from home. We are able to achieve this mission through programs that are designed to engage America’s greatest resource—the people.
